REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claims 1 and 7-9 are allowed.
2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

RE claims 1 and 9, the prior art of record, and in particular Tetsuya (EPO 0481752 A1), fails to teach or suggest a method and associated apparatus comprising (a) generating sector level check bytes for each sector in the block responsive to the data bytes in each sector according to a first level of an error correction code, and except when the write command is fragmented and is less than or equal to one multi-sector block of data bytes, generating block level check bytes for at least one sector in the block responsive to the sector level check bytes of at least two sectors, including the at least one sector, according to at least a second level of the error correction code.

RE claim 7, the prior art of record, and in particular Tetsuya (EPO 0481752 A1), fails to teach or suggest a method comprising (b) processing the block to detect and correct data bytes in error in each sector within the capability of the sector level check bytes, to detect and correct data bytes in error in the at least two sectors that exceed the correction capability of the sector level check bytes but within the correction capability of the block level check bytes, or to indicate that the data bytes in error in the at least two sectors exceed the correction capability of each of the sector level check bytes and the block level check bytes; (c) receiving logical block addresses (LBAs) from a host operating system for each write/read command, wherein the LBAs are translated into physical locations within blocks located on a track of a moving storage medium of a data storage device; (d) controlling the step of generating when writing data bytes responsive to the LBAS; and (e) controlling the step of processing when reading data bytes responsive to the LBAS.

RE claim 8, the prior art of record, and in particular Tetsuya (EPO 0481752 A1), fails to teach or suggest a method comprising (a) receiving logical block addresses (LBAs) from a host operating system for each write command and each read command, wherein the LBAs are translated into physical assignment of each sector to corresponding blocks on tracks on a moving storage medium of a data storage device, wherein an integral multiple of blocks are written on each track; (b) writing data bytes to the moving storage medium responsive to the LBAs, wherein the step of writing further comprises the step of (b1) generating sector level check bytes for each sector in the block responsive to the data bytes in each sector according to a first level of an error correction code, and generating block level check bytes for at least one sector in the block responsive to the sector level check bytes of at least two sectors, including the at least one sector, according to at least a second level of the error correction code; (c) reading data bytes from the moving storage medium responsive to the LBAs, wherein the step of reading further comprises the step of (c1) processing the block to detect and correct data bytes in error in each sector within the capability of the sector level check bytes, to detect and correct data bytes in error in the at least two sectors that exceed the correction capability of the sector level check bytes but within the correction capability of the block level check bytes, or to indicate that the data bytes in error in the at least two sectors exceed the correction capability of each of the sector level check bytes and the block level check bytes.
